

E-Books

Blue Ridge Regional Library Video Tutorials

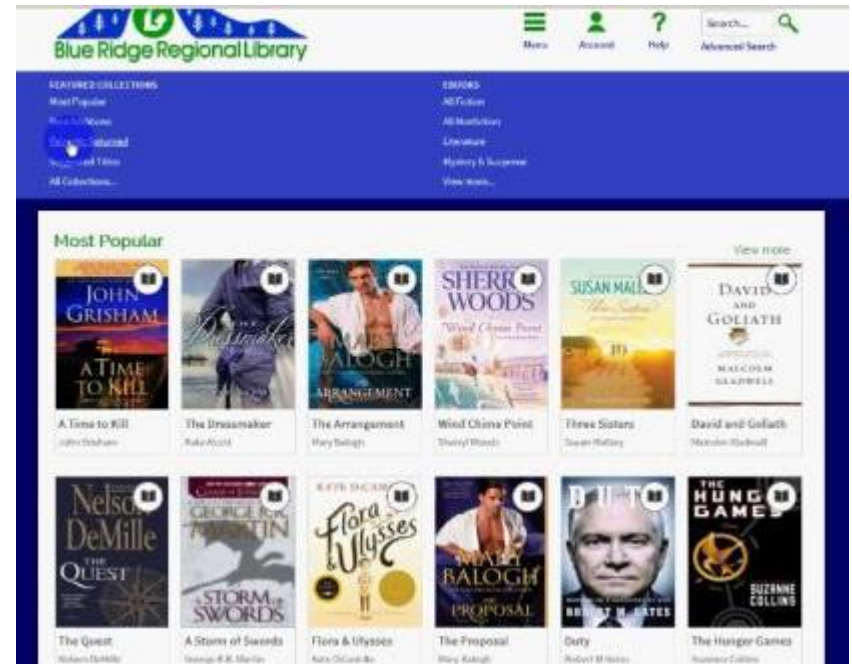

Introduction

- The library now offers a wide array of E-books which can easily be rented and read from this computer or from home on several electronic devices including tablets and smart phones.

The E-book Library

- To access our E-book library, simply click the Overdrive link on the left side of the regional library's home page.
- From there, you can see some of the most popular E-book that are available as well as links to other categories and genres.
- There is also a handy search bar to help you find specific books or authors.

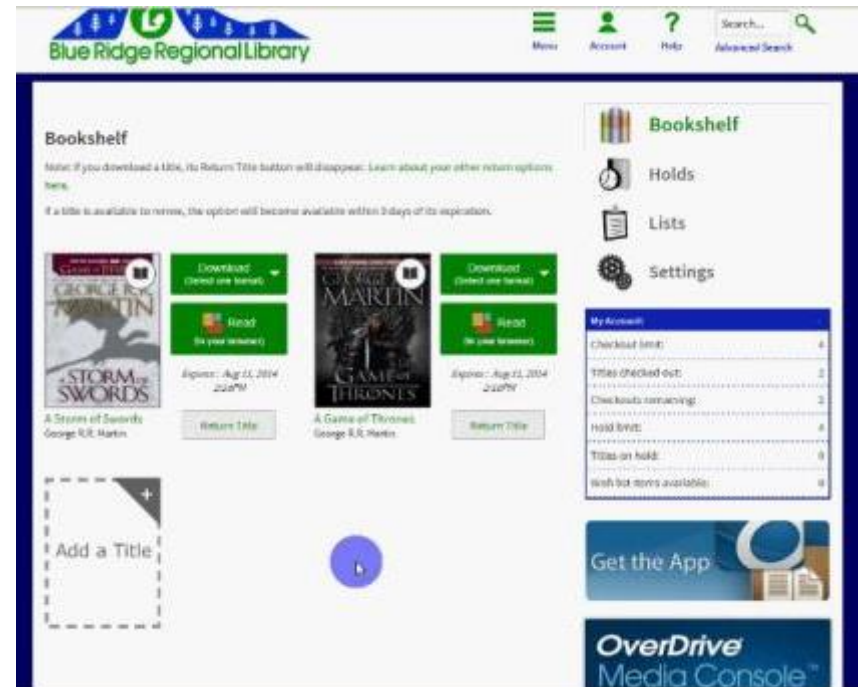

Renting or Holding

- When you find the book you are looking for, place your pointer over it and it will either say borrow or place a hold in a green box.
- A title that says place a hold is already checked out but you can be next in line to rent it.
- When you have made your selection, click borrow or place on hold. You will then be prompted to enter your library card number and your pin.

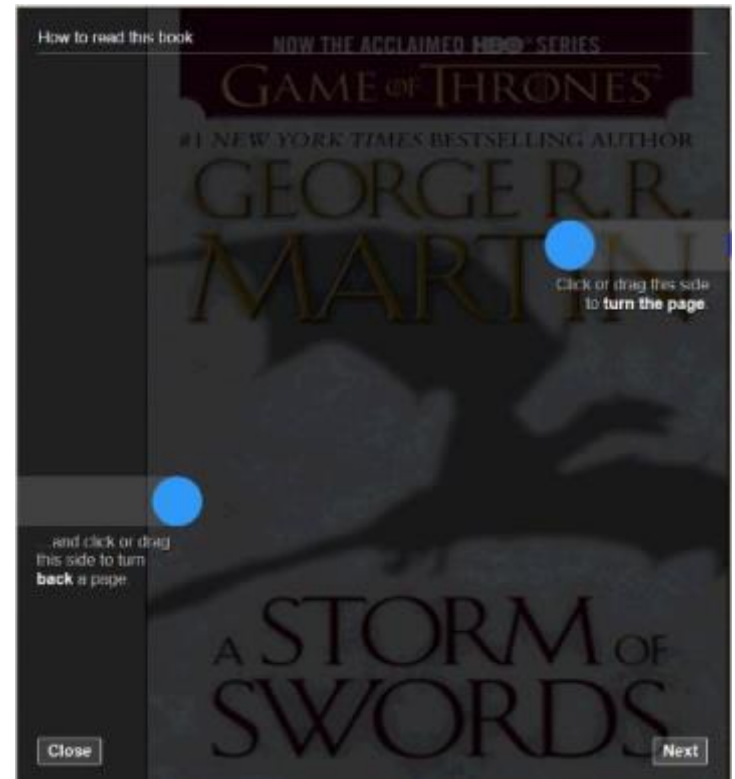

Your Bookshelf

- Your bookshelf shows all of your currently checked out E-books.
- You will also be presented with the options to download the book, read in your browser, add a new title to your bookshelf, or return the book.
- Your book's due date is also displayed. E-book are checked out for two weeks at a time and will disappear from your bookshelf when that time is up.

Reading in the Browser

- When reading in the browser, the book will open in a new tab and can be read by grabbing the pages with the pointers and pulling it as you would turn the pages of a real book or by using the arrow keys on your keyboard.

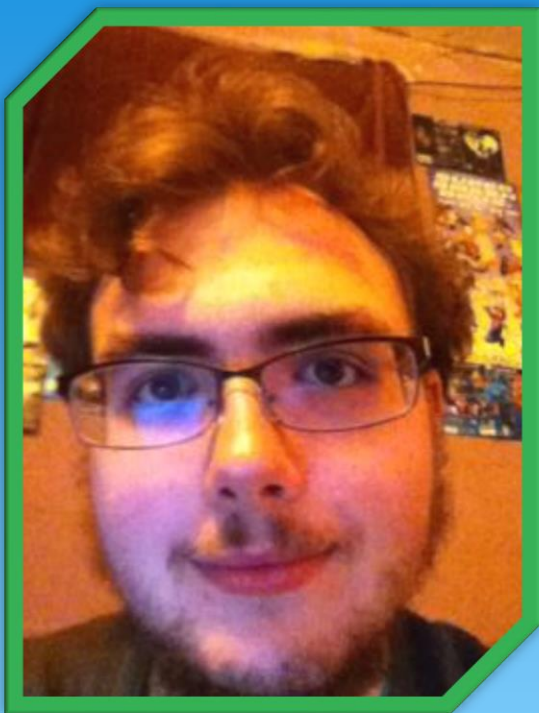

For Further Help

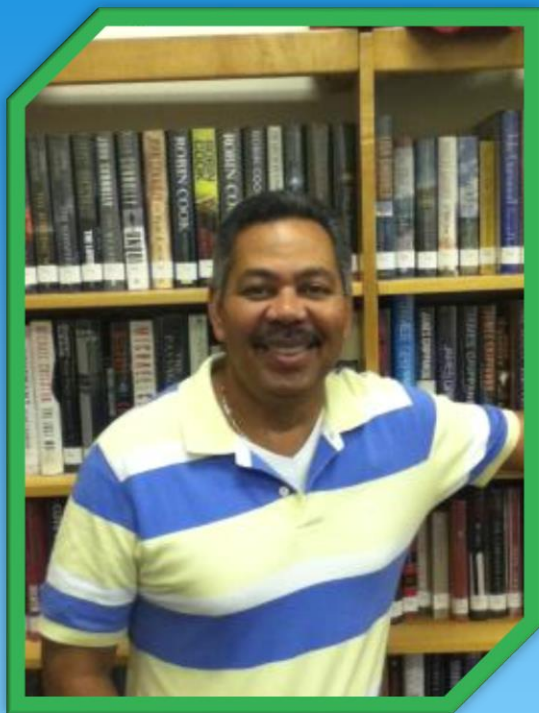

- If you have further questions, please refer to Overdrive's extensive help options.
- There you can learn how to download your books onto other devices and lots more.
